LOVE AND SUICIDE—ATTEMPTED MURDER OF AN ACCOMPLICE.

Yesterday, about one o'clock, the inmates of the house No. 80 Bowery street, were startled by the sharp report of a pistol, and their alarm was followed by a fall as of dead bodies on the floor of one of the lower rooms—bursting into the room, the occupants of the house found a young and beautiful woman—Madame Elise Poupon, wife of Charles Sage—having professed on the floor, weltering in blood, and apparently struggling in the death agony. Near her lay the body of a man whose bloody brains covered the floor, with his ghastly blown to pieces and quite dead. In each hand he held a pistol, one of which he had fired at the woman, and with the other had slain himself. It then appeared that a servant of the house had been present, who had seen both the attempted murder and the after suicide.

Having made strict inquiry, we learned the following facts: The woman was a native of France, married to Charles Sage, and the twain had lived in Cincinnati, where the deceased became acquainted with them. Madame Sage left her husband, and came to this city on Sunday last, it then appeared that a quarrel arose in that city on Sixth street, between Main and Walnut streets. With her usually beauty and attractiveness she drew around her a host of associates, among them the deceased, and the profile of the ship were both in the rooms of the merchant of other passengers. Sage, learning this, left his wife in Cincinnati Spriners, on the Kentucky side of the Ohio river, and only two or three miles from Cincinnati, where he came to see her. Within the last week, some name was J. Bedford, called at the house, having become desperately enamored of Madame, that being out of her present state to her a living unbearable. Sage, on the 21st of last month, a property, and falling into bad health, was taken to the hospital there. Where he was buried on till yesterday.

Her constant friendly visits to the dying Frenchman increased her intimacy, and on his recovery, he resolved to follow the pair to this city, which he did on the 24th inst. Arriving at the St. Louis Hotel, he found himself in the Orleans Theatre. They were there on the Bowery Theatre. Yesterday, Madame, and her husband took passage at the house where the tragedy occurred.

On the trip down, Bedford had taken frequent occasions to declare his passion for Madame, and even went so far as to propose an elopement. On the passage, however, appear she had resolved to have nothing to do with the villain, and made her fearing that from the desperate character of her admirer that some fatal violence might be done her, she had her husband's pistol. If she did not comply with his wishes he would take her life. Yesterday he resolved to receive his answer, finding she was firm in her resolve. Same proof against his seductive solicitations, entered her room and the fearful was as we have related.—He did not, however, proceed to extremities without having made a final effort to compass his desires. "With the weapons in his hands, and with words of burning attachment on his lips, he urged his suit. Finding his facilities, which failing, his hellish instincts were Later received a shot in the cheek, inflicting a frightful and probably fatal wound. With the remaining round the man blew out his own brains! At the last accounts, Madame was lingering in extreme pain, and the hospital doctors were entertained of her recovery.

NEWS FROM EUROPE IN FOUR DAYS.

The New York correspondent of the N. O. Picayune gives some interesting particulars of the contemplated four days' trip from Europe, which the arrangements by which, would be completed so as shall be able to have European news only four days old.

A cable, two miles in length, is to connect Newfoundland with Prince Edward's Island. This cable it is for which the whole project has its birth. It is now waiting, on shore in Shannon, which had the contract of making, having been burnt out, their operations have been delayed for some time, but they have it now again in hand.

The course of the line runs from St. John's Newfoundland, and Cape Ross, across the island of Cape Race, and to Cape Ray. Thence to Prince Edwards Island, the connection is made by means of the above cable.

A short submarine wire of the line also connects Prince Edward's Island with the main land of New Brunswick, and the line runs through that province to the boundary of the U. States at Calais.

It is stated that a steamer is being constructed for the government which is guaranteed to run 20 miles an hour. She will run between New York and Galway, stopping at St. John's. She will perform the trip to New York from Ireland in six days. A steam yacht will meet her off Cape Race, and on her return, it will be transmitted thence by telegraph, only four days old.

If this new transit accomplishes what is promised for her, the company will have 3 others built, the four forming a regular line.

The same company intend also to make arrangements for intercepting the N. American and British steamers, whose news will also be sent on by telegraph and will thus reach New York, by most part, four days in advance of their arrival.

It is the intention of the company to open subscription books in all the principal cities in the United States, where orders can be given to subscribe for the news, which will be furnished them simultaneously, at a fixed rate per copy—after that, it will be furnished to the press in every city free of expense.

It is confidently stated that the line will be completed by June next.

SOME OBSERVATIONS MADE ON A SHORT JOURNEY WEST.

Probably as part of this State is at present giving more indubitable marks of growth and progress, than that portion of the extreme North West along the line of the Illinois Central Railroad, including the city of Galena; and as [illegible] lately beyond it to Dunleith, at the western terminus of the Galena Branch of the same road, and also on the banks of the Mississippi, opposite the city of Dubuque. Indeed, no part of the country and a vast region beyond it must inevitably become tributary to Chicago, some notice of its progress may be interesting.

The line of the Railroad is located west from Freeport for upwards of thirty miles, near the Old Military Range route, and the Iowa is now laid [illegible] Freeport, which is in the neighborhood of Wine Prairie, which is at the west end of Waddam's Grove, at the commencement of Nine Mile Prairie. It is proposed to extend it further to Hazel Green and the heart of the mining country, has been commenced, and there are many indications that the several Lead Mining Companies who have recently commenced successful steam works and operations in the vicinity of Sinsinawa Mound, intend to make this their shipping point; and it is difficult to avoid the conclusion that it is a promising point for the establishment of a town for the manufacture of shot, sheet lead, lead pipe, white lead, &c., &c. The Railroad Company are not hurrying their depot buildings at present, as there will be time enough during the next summer to finish them before the connection by rail can be made beyond Galena.

Across the River, Dubuque is growing vigorously, and laying deep, broad and solidly the foundations of future greatness. But it is in the country west and northwest of that city, one sees the most astonishing changes taking place. They must be witnessed to be believed. The rate at which emigration is pouring in, is wonderful, but no more wonderful than the stimulations of the country. For a healthful climate and a beautiful soil—for an exactly just distribution of river and spring water, timber and prairie—for just the needed roll in the surface of the country to insure good drainage—and for a hundred picturesque and attractive features, North Western Iowa, as a new country presents advantages to the emigrant immeasurably ahead of any other. It is rapidly filling up with an Eastern and a better class of European population, and its trade will be of immense value to those who have the means, position and disposition to secure it. Connected with the subject of a Northern Pacific Railroad—the feasibility of which is hydraulicly gaining in the estimation of the country—the multitude of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

The Carriers of the Daily Tribune will pay fifteen dollars for the best New Years Address, of about two hundred lines, to be sent to the address of the Editor, on or before the TWENTY-FIFTH instant. The columns received will be submitted to an impartial committee, who will decide which one shall take the prize.

THE WATER COMMISSIONERS.

At the Council meeting on Monday evening, the Board of Water Commissioners presented the following communication, desiring that the accusations against them be examined into before the Cook County Circuit Court, now in session.

To the Hon. the Mayor, and Aldermen of the City of Chicago in Common Council assembled.

On the 17th day of October last, a committee of the Council, in eager haste as we think appeared, to procure the condemnation of the undersigned, reported to your body that we might be "justly charged with neglect, incompetency, extravagance and disregard of public interests," and that they deemed it imperative on them to communicate the results of the examination that they had made, and the opinions that had been formed upon their minds by the disclosures of what they called facts. After indulging in many remarks savouring the smallest degree of courtesy of the undersigned, that report concluded by declaring that we had been guilty of breach of duty, either of commission or omission, and that our conduct should be enquired into by the Judge of the Circuit Court, and to this end that a committee should be appointed to draft a petition and report the same to the Council at the next adjourned or regular meeting.

To this report the undersigned responded on the 24th day of October following, but the report was never presented to the Council.

On the 31st day of October last, the Common Council ordered that a committee should be named by the Mayor, to carry into effect the conclusions of the former committee, and was authorized to employ competent legal counsel to aid them in drawing up the petition to the Circuit Court and conducting the case before it, as might be made before the Grand Court.

Although no announcement of any committee was made in the usual manner, we have been led to presume the unfortunate gentlemen appointed to prosecute the undersigned, in pursuance of the said proceedings of the Common Council yet the undersigned have been informed that the same committee which made the first report were charged with the further duty of prosecution by petition to the Circuit Court.

To the surprise of the undersigned, they observe that at a special meeting of the Common Council, held on the 25th inst., the Mayor has announced that they do not desire the proceed further with this matter, except with due caution and deliberation, and certainly they are confident of the result. Why this is meant is we will successfully convicting the undersigned of the fictitious charges contained in their former proceedings, the undersigned cannot say. Such declaration will amount to an indefinite postponement of the whole matter.

No sum of five hundred dollars is necessary to be expended in order to ascertain who have been "ignorant, negligent, corrupt, extravagant or guilty of a disregard of the public interests." These are offences which can be inquired into at one time as well as another. Therefore the undersigned demand that these accusations be forthwith investigated by the Circuit Court, in the manner indicated by the law; otherwise we shall hold before the public that, the Council have been guilty of illegal disorder against us.

JOHN B. TAYLOR,
H. G. LOOMIS,
A. D. SMITH,
Board of Water Com'rs.

Chicago, Nov. 28, 1853.

After the reading of this document, a motion was made to lay it on the table which was carried by a vote of 5 to 4. Whereupon Ald. Brown offered the following, which was laid by on a vote of 9 to 6.

Whereas, on the 17th day of October last, a special committee of the Council reported that the Water Commissioners at the city of Chicago might be charged with "neglect, incompetency, extravagance and disregard of public interests," and ought to be impeached; and the subject of prosecution was referred to said committee—and more than a month has transpired and the Committee have presented no facts showing that the Commissioners are guilty as charged by the Committee, and it is manifestly unjust to unsettle the reputation of respectable men to allow by grave and sweeping charges without giving them a speedy trial.

Therefore, Ordered, that a Special Committee report at the next meeting of the Council what particular facts exist on which to found articles of impeachment, that the Council and the public generally may know what means, if any, exist to said commissioners.

No possible error could be offered for laying Ald. Brown's proposition on the table, except that a majority of the Council, finding themselves exposed to the universal contempt which their course thus far has brought upon them, are determined to use the power they possess, and do all the wrong that is possible to hedge up it.—To one who has watched the conduct of a majority of the Council on this subject, it is fail to see that it has all been prompted by a desire to peculate upon the treasury of the city. So long as Messrs. Turner and Loomis occupy their present position, they present an insuperable obstacle to all such fraudulent schemes.

CHICAGO PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY—THE LAY OF THE BELL.

A few words relative to this fine musical composition of Schiller, translated by Sir Edward Bulwar Lytton, and set to music by Andreas Romberg, may at this time not be misplaced, as we are soon to have this beautiful production brought out by our Chicago Philharmonic Society.

In Germany the business of Bell Founding is not carried on as in our own matter-of-fact land altogether in manufactories, like the casting of pots and kettles, but is made a matter of serious ceremony, joy and rejoicing. When a Bell is to be cast, the Master Founder calls together a band of men to the place where the Bell is to be used, and there erecting his mould, prepares his cast. Invitations are sent to the surrounding neighbors, who gather to partake of the festivities of the occasion.

The poet Schiller has made the casting with its attendant rites, the subject of his happiest effort—describing with minuteness the different steps of the casting to the completion of the Bell; its solemn baptism and christening and raising to its final position in the tower. He makes note of the various occasions when the Bell is sounded—at birth and death—in festive gatherings and in time of war, and insurrection, as an alarm of fire and a call to worship—including, wonderful, in some beautiful but touching applications of the sounds of the Bell to the ever varying scenes of human life.

Andreas Romberg, a musical composer of high powers, has produced, in adapting music to the Poem, one of the finest descriptive compositions ever written.

We might comment at length upon the music, but will be content with noticing one of the bands of the choruses; hoot, because of the felicity of description—the chorus, "How great the anger of ochilla fire." Listening to this, one has depicted before him to mind all the realities of an overwhelming conflagration, the restless surging of devouring flames, the struggles of its unhappy victims to save life and property—the cries of wounding and dying, and the hurrying to and fro of men busy in throwing water, with vain attempts, to stay its power. There are many other gems of harmony of happier meaning—of blessed charm and sooth; but we leave the "Lay" to the judgment of those who may have the pleasure of listening on Monday eve.

We opine that not all the music lovers in our community are quite aware of the ability of the Choral Society which we have here in Chicago, and are confident that the result of the Concert to be given on Monday eve will be to astonish many and gratify all.

LECTURE ON COLORADO.

A lecture will be delivered at the City Hall, on Wednesday evening, the 30th inst. by the Rev. M. M. Clark, of Philadelphia, editor of a colored newspaper, on the American Colonization Society.

1st. Its History.—2d. The Geographical Location of the Colony in Africa.—3d. The Physical and Mental Condition of the Colonists.—4th. The Moral and Religious Aspect of the Colony; and lastly, the Effects which it has, and must upon the Free Colored People of the United States.

Mr. Clark has the reputation of being a good speaker, and of fully understanding the subject of his Colonization.

MISCELLANEOUS.

In view of the striking dearth of local news, we have at last resolved to dragging before the public eye (after a considerable effort which we hope will not be long done. We confess that we are also under justification for deserving of blame for making the advertisement, in view of the professional vocation of the parties in question, which affords us ample and satisfactory reasons why their private acts and motives should be buried from the public, and held as sacredly inviolable as the confessional.

With these premises we proceed with our story.

It appears that on a certain occasion of recent occurrence, Approximate Lately became deeply engrossed in a young lady who is well known, personally, (in the legal law line) to a large number of our leading citizens. For some time said salesman is of a dissolute and reckless character and engaged in carriages and horses for the benefit of his fellow citizens. Especially when he "calls on a lady," involving the handling of his "tools on a horse." The young lady in question is a model of refinement, and (but) beauty such as would have thrown Michael Angelo into convulsions, and made Raphael throw his pencil to the shades (in a huff.) In respect to her lovely face in that characteristic consist in its confidentiality of expression, while the natural ease and grace of her motions shame n'en and upon their minds by the disclosure of what they called facts. After indulging in many remarks savouring the smallest degree of courtesy of the undersigned, that report concluded by declaring that we had been guilty of breach of duty, either of commission or omission, and that our conduct should be enquired into by the Judge of the Circuit Court, and to this end that a committee should be appointed to draft a petition and report the same to the Council at the next adjourned or regular meeting.

A lecture will be delivered at the City Hall, on Wednesday evening, the 30th inst. by the Rev. M. M. Clark, of Philadelphia, editor of a colored newspaper, on the American Colonization Society.

Mr. Clark has the reputation of being a good speaker, and of fully understanding the subject of his Colonization.

The schooner Bronze, which sunk at the foot of Randolph street, in the heavy gales of December last, was floated and towed to Buffalo by the steamer Plover, by the agent, Putnam, in the fall of water, on 4 feet. She is shallower of draft than ever, and supposed by her owners that she will be able to get to Buffalo, but fails the harbor.

The brig Caroline, which was disabled in the same gale, is discharging her cargo. About 200 bushels of wheat were found damaged; 150 barley is not yet wholly out, but is much injured.

The schooner J. W. Brown, also injured, is now here, but had her cargo taken out, badly damaged. She will try in the Dry Dock for repairs as soon as possible. The Brown and Caroline will both be dismantled immediately, and lay up for the winter.

The new schooner C. P. Williams, which arrived at Buffalo on Monday from this port, will lay up at Erie.

SOLD.—Capt. Edward Kelley yesterday sold the schooner Arrow, at private sale for $2,500. She is one year old, 80 tons burthen, and was purchased by Benjamin Smith, of Grand Haven, Michigan, and will continue in the lumber trade.

LAYING UP.—A number of vessels have already been stripped of their sails and rigging, and have gone into winter quarters. The fleet now due from Buffalo, will "follow suit" immediately on their arrival.

PANORAMA OF IRELAND AND NIAGARA.—There will be an exhibition of these beautiful paintings this afternoon at three o'clock for the accommodation of the schools. This exhibition is highly instructive, and the musical performances of the Mac Dow children, is calculated to afford much and improve children who are learning music. The panorama will shortly be exhibited at the North Market Hall.

BY TELEGRAPH

REPORTED EXPRESSLY FOR THE CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE.

Arrival of the Atlantic.

(By the Southern Michigan Telegraph Line.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 29, 11 A.M.

The Atlantic arrived at 2 o'clock, this morning.

Nothing later from the seat of war, but details of engagements previously announced.

Desisive battles have been fought at Bucharest, but nothing known as to the result.

Another brilliant victory is rumored as having taken place at Giurgie, where 1200 Russians were killed.

The Turks have 100,000 man across the Danube.

Liverpool cotton market quiet and sales limited. Prices favor buyers, though not nominally lower.

The tone of the market generally former.—Fair business in Wheat and Flour at full prices. Middling descriptions of Wheat 12 Alabar.

SECOND DISPATCH.

FURTHER BY THE ATLANTIC.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.

The steamer Atlantic brings news from Liverpool to the 16th inst. Nothing to be positively relied on has occurred in reference to the Turkish war, but we have rumors of a decisive battle said to be fought near Bucharest, but it is not known who is victorious. We have also details of a recent affair at Oltenestes, which resulted in a brilliant Turkish victory, 1200 Russians being killed and wounded.

The Turks have already nearly 100,000 men across the Danube.

The Russian Commander, Prince Gortschakoff, has received orders to act on the offensive. The Oltenestes Fourth Regiment is in the Russian service and is disaffected. It favored the passage of the Danube, and gave no alarm when it saw the Turks crossing.

The Turkish fleet is in the Black sea, and the Anglo-French fleet is in the Sea of Marmora.—The Russians laid an embargo on Turkish shipping clearing from the Danube and other ports after Nov. 23d, but neutral flags are to be respected.

Count Nesselrode's diplomatic note, as published, excites much remark. The French and British press state that Turkey will have nothing to do with the amendment of the Vienna note, but insists on a perfectly new treaty to settle the future.

Klapka had received a command on the Danube. The Circassians continue to have successes in Asia.

The French Emperor expresses himself strongly in favor of active operations to aid the Turks. The British Government is evidently vacillating.

The Prussian Government certifies other powers that it reserves to itself the liberty of acting on Eastern affairs.

LATEST.

VIENNA, Monday, Nov. 14th

The Russian Commander moved forward 80,000 men, mostly infantry, and met the Turks.—A pitched battle ensued, and the Russians were compelled to retreat the second time in disorder to Bucharest, having lost in four attacks on Ollenestes, 4,000 men. This is reliable. On the 9th, the Turks were driven from the island opposite Jussogova, but reinforcements came up when they retook the island and held it.

The Czar has summarily discharged all Polish operatives from the Russian navy yard.

The tone of the breadstuff market is unsettled, with a fair but not excited business. Middling descriptions of wheat quoted a penny dearer.—Indian corn dull at 46s, white de 50s. Richardson's circular quotes white wheat at 10s 3d, red and mixed, 9s 6d and 10s 2d; western canal flour, 36s and 37s 6d. Bacon quiet, and steady. Lard in good demand. Beef, pork attention. Pork dull; lard unchanged; tallow steady.

The Bank of England gave notice that it will discount the amount of stock due in January at 5 per cent instead of 4, as previously noticed.

The Bank of Amsterdam has increased the rate of ½ per cent. Hamburg houses quote a tight money market, and the current rate was four per cent.

It is rumored that the Sultan had placed himself at the head of his army.

Rumors of an alliance between the Russians and Dost Mahommed respecting England, come from different sources. Letters from Cabastan say that a large Russian army is marching to the Capital, with the avowed purpose—

(Here the line let down.)

SORE THROAT, COUGHS, CONSUMPTION.

Pain in various parts of the bod , and other unpleasant symptoms, are the effects of catarrhal.

Wright's Indian Vegetable Pillsare a delightful medicine for carrying off a cold, because they purge from the body all morbid and corrupt humors in an easy and agreeable manner. From three to six of said Indian Vegetable Pills, taken every night—a going to bed, will, in a short time, make a perfect cure of the most obstinate cold—as the same time the blood and other fluids will be thoroughly purified, and the constitution so completely invigorated, that the body will be restored to even sounder health than before.

SOLD UPON HOPE.

A TRUE LIFE—The Mind of a Thousand Years—Sold at Auction for $1 per Year.—Some time since, a gentleman in Baltimore in his will, left a number of slaves to be sold at auction, on condition that they should be sold to the highest bidder, and that each should have the privilege of choosing his master. The sale took place, and the slaves were sold for sums varying from $1 to $1,000. One old man, who was considered worthless, was sold for $1 per year, and he chose for his master the man who bought him. The old man lived for many years after the sale, and was known as the "Dollar Negro." He was considered a prophet by his master, and his every word was treasured up as a sacred thing. He died at the age of 120 years, and his master died soon after him, broken-hearted. Thus we see that the mind of a thousand years was sold for a dollar, and the body that contained it was sold for a thousand dollars. Which was the most valuable?
